

The Consumer Experts Give Their Testimonials

Herb Denenberg

Emmy Award-Winning Consumer Reporter

"My advice to anyone would be to get a member of the NJRA to do your...remodeling jobs. There's one exception to the rule [that trade associations] protect the pocketbooks of their members. This exceptional group ... is the New Jersey Remodelers Association... I've always been impressed by the fact that top consumer protection officials...have nothing but praise for the NJRA, a remarkable fact in an industry that generates a high percentage of consumer complaints...The NJRA program should be adopted in every section of the country."

Renee L. Borstad, Director

Burlington County Office of Consumer Affairs

"The New Jersey Remodelers Association truly cares and produces results, whether it be for the consumer or a person in need. Through their various policing and humanitarian endeavors...these fine people have unselfishly worked with us without charge on both attacking and even correcting home improvement problems created by rip-off contractors. Also, in my experience, the NJRA's Consumer/Contractor Arbitration Board (CAB) has resolved consumer concerns to satisfaction. Therefore, I never hesitate to recommend the services of the NJRA. [It has been] responsive and compassionate."

Remodeling Magazine

"The New Jersey Remodelers Association [is] well known for its tight admissions standards and reputation as a consumer watchdog."

Irv Homer, ABC-TV6 "Inside Story"

WBCB-AM Radio 1490/WBCB1490.com

"I'm impressed with the work of the NJRA and how they make sure that if you do business with its members, you're protected. This is the only association I know that has a consumer affairs advocate on their side [and vice-versa]. They work hand in hand with consumer officials to get rid of the swindlers...If you hire an NJRA member, two things will happen... the job is going to be done right and you're not going to have any aggravation."

Great Reasons To Become a NJRA Member

1. NJRA Members Save Thousands Of Dollars On Our Exclusive Discounts Alone

The discount includes the NJRA Supplier Discount Program. Members can also receive professional services discounts from legal, accounting, marketing/PR, photography and business management groups affiliated with the organization.

2. Membership Verifications Requested Daily By Consumers

All members are listed on our Web site which is constantly being updated with new member information. The member listing is by category which makes it easy for homeowners to locate the member they need for the work to be done.

3. The NJRA Provides Networking Opportunities And Expert Information For The Members

The NJRA Members are invited to network with their Industry colleagues at regular events. Rich in tradition, these events include networking and educational membership meetings, a Golf Outing, a Blood Drive, Educational Programs and other various networking events. Members network, share information and what they have learned with each other. Through their experience, members help each other out and even share leads with each other.

The NJRA contacts and books experts in building code changes and industry matters to speak at their general membership meetings. This keeps the members informed and allows them to avoid unnecessary monetary losses.

4. The NJRA Protects And Lobbies For Your Rights

Non-members can be at risk during governmental audits and face penalties simply because they did not follow the right procedures. As a NJRA member, we look after your rights, provide you information & regulation updates, and individual assistance. We can help reduce your exposure during government audits.

- Audit safeguards
- Building code information and contacts
- A support system
- Advertising done by the association
- And much more!

5. The NJRA Is Recognized As The Nation's Best Policed And Most Ethical and Humanitarian Industry Group.

This recognition has come from consumers, industry leaders, the media and community groups. Through our Consumer/Contractor Arbitration Board (CAB), The NJRA has never had an unresolved consumer complaint since CAB was established in 1981. The record is historic and unparalleled. Members abide by the strictest, yet fairest, rules in the industry and conduct themselves on the highest level ethically.

Like CAB, Operation Good Samaritan is a historic program that allows the members to give back to the community. Our members give from their hearts, time, materials and talent to the less fortunate to raise their lives up.

6. Positive Media Coverage Grows Your Profile And Business

The NJRA has received testimonials, appreciation from consumers, and positive press based on our high standards, good work, and charitable projects. Members are proud of their association with the NJRA and prominently display the membership affiliation on everything they do. Customers recognize the logo and name and this has helped many members close deals.
